CAPITULATION OF MANTUA.

Capitulation between his Excellency Marſhal Count de Wurmſer, commander in chief of the army of his majeſty the emperor and king, and the general of diviſion Serrurier, commander of the French republic before Mantua.

Article I. The Imperial garriſon of Mantua, and the citadel, ſhall evacuate Mantua by the great gate of the citadel with the honours of war, drums beating, colours flying, matches lighted, and ſhall carry with them two ſix pounders, two twelve pounders, and two howitzers, with their carriages and harneſs, together with the neceſſary ammunition for each place, and the artillery men belonging to them. The garriſon ſhall form upon the Chauſee leading from Marmico to Mantua, ſhall not lay down their arms, but ſhall be priſoners of war until exchanged, except thoſe mentioned in the ſecond article, who ſhall not be priſoners of war.—Anſ. Granted, with this exception, that on the outſide of the barriers the arms ſhall be laid down upon the glacis, as well as the colours, ſtandards, and every other military article, the garriſon being to remain all priſoners of war.—Granted alſo to every thing relating to the artillery and the artilleriſts, who ſhall quit the garriſon with 700 men, who are not priſoners of war.

II. Marſhal Count de Wurmſer ſhall not be a priſoner of war, nor his ſuite, &c. the adjutant-generals Aver and Ban Hoht, and captain aid-de-camp Count Degenfeld; all the generals, each with his aid de camp; 200 cavalry with their reſpective horſes and their officers; 500 men to be choſen by the marſhal; the ſix pieces of cannon mentioned in the firſt article, with their gunners, ammunition, and furniture.—Anſ. Granted, as far as relates to Marſhal Wurmſer; to every thing that belongs to him perſonally, to 200 cavalry, compriſing their officers, and to 500 individuals to be choſen by the marſhal, including the artilleriſts mentioned in the firſt article, the general officers, thoſe of the etat major, and every other individual whom the marſhal ſhall think proper to comptiſe in it.

III. The officers ſhall keep their ſwords, their horſes, equipage, and all their property; the ſoldiers their knapſacks; as well as perſons not employed in a military capacity, the civil officers, and all perſons attached to the military ſervice.—Anſ. The officers ſhall keep their ſwords; the generals and other perſons hereafter mentioned ſhall keep the following number of horſes; the lieutenant general 16—major generals 10—colonels 8—lieutenant colonels and majors 7—captains of cavalry 3—captains of infantry 2—lieutenants of cavalry 2—lieutenants and enſigns of infantry 2. The commiſſaries of war ſhall be treated upon the footing of the military rank to which they are conſidered as equal. All perſons employed, to whom the law allows horſes, ſhall keep one of each.

I demand their word of honor from the officers deſtined to execute this capitulation, that no individual of the army ſhall carry away more than what belongs to him. Each ſoldier ſhall keep his ſack, and every cavalier his portmanteau.

IV. The imperial garriſon ſhall be conducted by the ſhorteſt road to Gouſe, in the Tirol, and ſhall be exchanged by preference for French priſoners of war—Anſ. The troops ſhall be conducted by Porto Legnago, Padua, and Treviſo: The exchanges ſhall be made as ſoon as poſſible, and the 700 men carried away by Marſhall Wurmſer, ſhall promiſe not to ſerve againſt the French army for three months from hence, dated from the day of this capitulation.

V. The march of the troops ſhall be regulated by French commiſſioners in two columns, and they ſhall not be made to march more than four French leagues a day, on account of the garriſon being weakened by ſickneſs.

The French commiſſaries ſhall provide the neceſſary ſubſiſtence for the troops and horſes, and, ſhall furniſh the waggons neceſſary to convey thoſe who may fall ill on the road.—Anſ. In order not to burden the country too much, and to obtain ſubſiſtence with greater facility, ſeveral days ſhall be occupied in departure of the columns; each ſhall conſiſt of 1000 men; and the firſt, which ſhall be particularly compoſed of all the armed troops, ſhall ſet out the day after to-morrow, 4th February. Care ſhall be taken to have ſeveral carriages at the head of the columns to convey the ſick. Subſiſtence ſhall be provided for the men and horſes.

VI. The waggons carrying the Chancery of the head-quarters and of the troops, as well as the war cheſt, being 27 in number, 23 of which are drawn by two horſes, and the remainder by four horſes, ſhall go out freely, and join the garriſon to proceed to Gouſe.—Anſ. Refuſed. A commiſſioner ſhall be charged to inſpect the regiſters or other papers belonging to the Chancery; and if they are of no uſe to the army of the French Republic, carriages ſhall be furniſhed for carrying them away.

VII. The ſick and wounded ſhall be treated humanely; they ſhall be left in the hoſpitals with the ſurgeons and attendants neceſſary, the number of whom ſhall be fixed; and after their cure they ſhall have the benefit of the articles of capitulation, as well as thoſe whoſe affairs ſhall detain them at Mantua, to whom the neceſſary paſſports ſhall be delivered, as ſoon as their buſineſs ſhall be terminated.—Anſ. Granted, and they ſhall experience the ſame lot as the garriſon.

VIII. All the civil officers in the ſervice of his majeſty the emperor ſhall go out freely with their bureaux and chancery, and the neceſſary conveyance ſhall be furniſhed them.—Anſ. Theſe individuals may go away freely, but the bureaux and chancery ſhall be examined, and remain in the power of the army, if neceſſary.

XI. The city ſhall be maintained in all its rights, privileges, property, and religion; no account ſhall be taken of the conduct of the citizens who have rendered ſervices to their lawful ſovereign.—Anſ. Granted.

X. Such of the citizens or inhabitants of the city as may wiſh to retire from Mantua with their property, into the hereditary ſtates of his imperial majeſty, ſhall have one year to ſell at their will and freely their poſſeſſions, both moveable and immoveable, and the neceſſary paſſports ſhall be granted them. Anſ. Granted.

XI. The cannoners of the city who have ſerved upon the ramparts againſt the French army, ſhall not be diſturbed for ſuch conduct, having only done their duty, founded upon the conſtitution of the duchy of Mantua, and they ſhall return to their own homes. Anſ. Granted.

XII. If any doubtful article ſhall be found in the capitulation, which may give riſe to diſputes, it ſhall be explained in favour of the garriſon —Anſwer. It ſhall be diſcuſſed and interpreted according to juſtice.

XIII. Three hours after the ſignature of the capitulation, there ſhall be ſurrendered to the French troops an advanced work of the citadel, as far as the firſt drawbridge, and only the French commiſſioners, and thoſe who may be ſent on buſineſs by the French commandant of the blockade, ſhall be admitted to enter the place or the citadel. The French army ſhall not enter the place or the citadel until it ſhall be evacuated by the imperial garriſon. —Anſ. The citadel ſhall be wholly given up three hours after the ſignature of the capitulation; but if it ſhould be too late, it ſhall be given up the next day at nine o'clock—all communication ſhall be prevented between the troops of the reſpective powers; and the French troops ſhall occupy the advanced poſts of the gates of the city. Only the French commiſſioners, charged by the general with the operations belonging to them, together with the officers of artillery, and the engineer officers for the plans, charts, &c. which muſt of neceſſity be in the city, ſhall enter the place.

XIV. An officer ſhall be permitted to proceed to his majeſty the emperor, as well as another officer to the general of the imperial army in the Tyrol, with the capitulation.—Granted—the commiſſary general ſhall have a paſſport to proceed beforehand to the territories of his imperial majeſty.

NOTICE.

THOSE who may be indebted to the late concern of Dinwiddie, Crawford and Company, for dealings at their ſtore in Blandford, under the management of David Ruſſell; in Dinwiddie, of Robert Turnbull; in Brunſwick, of Thomas Crawford; in Mecklenburg, of William Turnbull; and in Charlotte, of Robert Burton and William Duncan; and their ſtore in Warren county, North Carolina, under William Duncan and William Cole; are deſired to take notice, that in conſequence of a decree of the Honorable the High Court of Chancery, the ſubſcribers are now in poſſeſſion of the books, bonds, and other ſpecialties, belonging to the different ſtores in that concern, and are excluſively authoriſed to collect the debts.

The reſpective debtors are requeſted to make immediate payment to us, or either of us, and are prohibited from making payment on account of ſuch debts to any other perſon, even although they altered the nature of ſuch debts, by giving new bonds or other ſpecialties in name of Robert Turnbull, or Robert Turnbull and Charles Duncan; or although any of the bonds may be aſſigned to any other perſon. In either of theſe caſes, the debtors will pleaſe obſerve, that by the abovementioned decree, they are only ſafe in paying ſuch debts to the ſubſcribers, or to thoſe they may hereafter appoint collectors, or to Capt. Thomas Vaughan, of Mecklenburg, who, they continue collector of the debts due the ſtore in Charlotte; and as thoſe debts have been ſo long due, and as the above concern has been remarkable for granting indulgence, we hope the debtors will immediately come forward and make the beſt payments in their power, and grant new ſpecialties for ſuch part as they are at this time unable to pay, in which caſe a reaſonable time will ſtill be given, otherways no longer can be expected. And the ſeveral lawyers, ſheriffs, and other collectors in Virginia and North-Carolina, who may be in poſſeſſion of money, bonds, and other papers belonging to ſaid company, (although in name of Robert Turnbull) are ſolicited to conſider themſelves as accountable to us only for the papers and their collections.

The reſpective debtors are requeſted to make immediate payment to us, or either of us, and prohibited from making payment to any other perſon, although an aſſignment of any of the bonds may have been made to any other perſon; and as long indulgence has been given, the debtors are ſolicited without delay, to call on us and adjuſt their accounts; and when it appears they are unable to pay the whole, a moderate time will ſtill be allowed for part. But thoſe that neglect this friendly admonition, may expect to be proſecuted without reſpect of perſons.—And the ſeveral lawyers, ſheriffs, or other collectors, who may be in poſſeſſion of any money, papers, &c. belonging to the concern, are only accountable to us, and are requeſted to communicate the ſame to
